Plenty at steak as Australia's best beef and lamb is crowned

Australia's best steak and lamb will be crowned tomorrow at the RNA's prestigious Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show's (RQFWS) Branded Beef and Lamb Competition at the Brisbane Showgrounds.

Meat lovers will be in awe as the finest beef and lamb in the nation is unearthed across seven categories.

The competition is regarded as the most coveted and comprehensive of its kind with entries this year up by 20 per cent.

Judges have tasted their way through almost 60 entries covering classes including grass fed, grain fed, Wagyu (marble score of 1-5); Wagyu (marble score of 6+), branded lamb 20kg or less and branded lamb more than 20kg.

Chief Judge Elaine Millar was joined by 12 other judges including award-winning restaurateurs John Kilroy of Brisbane's famous Cha Cha Char, David Pugh of Restaurant Two, Shaun Malone of Bucci and Jake Nicolson of Blackbird.

The RQFWS, established in 2009 is recognised as one of Australia's premier food and wine competitions.

The award-winning products will be featured at this year's Royal Queensland Show (Ekka).
